I am... A CERTIFIED NURSING ASSISTANT

Ready for work — in about a month

Our training program is designed to prepare you to become a Certified Nursing Assistant in just four weeks. Licensed CNAs work in clinical, hospital and care facility settings. The CNA is also the preferred entry-level credential for other health care certificate and degree programs, such as medical assisting and nursing. In our program, you'll receive classroom instruction and practicum experience and training in a health care setting. Once the training is completed, you'll be ready to take the CNA state exam — and well on your way to a career you'll love.

Youth Workforce Program

Train now and be employed sooner.

The ESD 112 Youth Workforce Program offers significant training opportunities in a variety of high-demand occupations.

Our specially designed programs offer exposure and training in careers that often have waiting lists for acceptance in traditional college or training settings.

Most of the courses provide easy next steps to gain certification, enter degree programs and employment. The sessions are concentrated in two to four weeks of classroom learning and hands-on training. Youth Workforce may also require other training classes to round out the programs and provide work readiness skills.
